In Pursuit of A New Dawn

DATE

6 January 2023

TIME

7 PM

VENUE

Flutes Restaurant
93 Stamford Rd, #01-02, Singapore 178897

Dear Friends,

On behalf of The Private Museum, we would like to appeal to your generosity to support our patrons' dinner happening on Friday, 6 January 2023 at 7 PM at Flutes Restaurant, in conjunction with Singapore Art Week 2023. The Private Museum Patrons' Dinner 2023 will inaugurate The Private Museum Circles, introducing and sharing highlights about the exclusive patron programme under our Circles of Patronage fundraising initiative. This programme acknowledges, honours and celebrates our distinguished patrons and their avid support of the arts.

In August 2021, TPM moved out of our home of 10 years at 51 Waterloo St and we have been exploring alternative spaces since then. After a long and arduous search, we had finally set our sights on 11 Upper Wilkie Rd, and were delighted to announce our new home at the former Osborne House, which is now pending the completion of restoration and renovation works.

TPM stands dedicated in its mission to serve as an independent platform in bridging the gap between the public and private art spheres through exchanges of ideas across cultures, education initiatives, and artistic and curatorial collaborations. Our new home is set to be almost six times larger than our previous space, so too will our programmes and offerings amplify. This expansion will bolster TPM's vision to be a leading, dynamic private museum in Southeast Asia and a national model in Singapore that engages, inspires and builds communities through art.

Your support is instrumental in helping us to pave the way forward to continue fulfilling our mission and vision. Not only will your generous donations and sponsorships help us to rebuild the infrastructure and restore the beautiful heritage building at 11 Upper Wilkie, it will also help to create new opportunities for more artistic collaborations and meaningful community engagements.

Every donation, regardless of size, is significant to us. Should you require more information, please feel free to contact us at (65) 6738 2872 or philanthropy@thepriatemuseum.org. Thank you for considering our request and we look forward to welcoming you in person at our patrons' dinner.

Yours sincerely,

Daniel Teo and Rachel Teo

A colonial history repurposed for the arts and culture

The villa can be seen atop Mount Emily at the end of Middle Road in the 1930s. All Rights Reserved. Jerome Lim, The Long and Winding Road.

The villa was formerly a Girl's Home run by the Social Welfare Department in 1950s. All Rights Reserved. National Archives of Singapore.

Standing as one of the few remnants of a forgotten world, the white villa known as the Osborne House withstands the test of time since its recorded existence in the early 1890s. Located at the end of 11 Upper Wilkie Road, the house holds many stories throughout the past 100 years. Its earliest record can be found during the birth announcement of Mr Heinrich Bock's daughter in December 1891.

It subsequently served as the Japanese Consulate Office during the second world war and then as a social welfare home. From the 1980s, the villa became repurposed for arts and culture as it came under the charge of the Nanyang Academy of Fine Arts, which was taken over in 2007 by Emily Hill Enterprise, a non-profit partnership formed by 11 artists.

Acknowledging these historical influences, The Private Museum will continue its trajectory to be a nurturing space and home for arts and culture in Singapore.

Bridging public and private spheres through the arts

Our new home is set to be almost six times larger than our previous space, so too will our programmes and offerings amplify.

This expansion will bolster TPM's vision to be a leading, dynamic private museum in Southeast Asia and a national model in Singapore that engages, inspires and builds communities through art.

Not only will your generous donations and sponsorships help us to rebuild the infrastructure and restore the beautiful heritage building at 11 Upper Wilkie, it will also help to create new opportunities for more artistic collaborations and meaningful community engagements.
